

Postcards from Morocco

I'm delighted to finally share my new fabric collection inspired by my travels to Morocco.

From Yves Saint Laurent to Matisse, designers & artists have long found a deep well of inspiration in the inescapable magic of this country. I can't think of a better mood-board than the historic cities & enchanting deserts of Morocco.

I wanted this collection to feel as if you were sifting through the pages of my travel diary. Mornings spent exploring the windswept dunes and evenings stargazing in the Agafay and Sahara.

I found textural and tonal inspiration everywhere I went: from the ancient walls of the medinas and fired-earth tiles in boutique riads, to the arid landscape of the vast desert. The earthy palette and organic materials of this landscape inspired these fabrics and are woven carefully throughout.

Fabrics born out of inspiration for the desert landscapes of Morocco but adapted to fit seamlessly into a variety of interiors; dunescape would be right at home in everything from a London apartment to a traditional English cottage.

Bring a piece of Morocco into your home with Desert Velvet, Dunescape, Desert Breeze & Oasis in cotton velvet, wool and linen blends.
